What do you think about Shakespeare's use of animal references? Are they significant in the play? Do they add depth and complexity to the characters or themes? Are they used to create a sense of atmosphere or mood? How do these animal references contribute to the overall narrative? Do they serve as a way to explore deeper meanings and ideas? Are they used to create a sense of tension or suspense? How do these animal references contribute to the overall mood and tone of the play? Are they used to create a sense of themes and images.
Weather

\( \text{1.} \) How do you think Shakespeare referred to illness so often in this play?

\( \text{2.} \) What kind of weather is referred to most often, and why?

Themes and Images

\( \text{3.} \) What metaphor do you think is the overall effect of this repeated use of each one makes the specter's meaning more vivid.

\( \text{4.} \) Choose four of them and explain how the clothing made in Elizabethan theatre often saw their plays on fine days, and at

Disease and sickness

\( \text{5.} \) What is the effect of the play's setting on the characters? Explain your answer.

\( \text{6.} \) What do you think is the overall effect of this repeated use of clothing as an image?

Clothing

\( \text{7.} \) What do you think is the overall effect of this repeated use of clothing as an image?

\( \text{8.} \) What do you think is the overall effect of this repeated use of clothing as an image?