Experts disagree on the effects of technology on children — Quartz

qz.com

“We certainly need to figure it out, because it’s changing everything.”

If you click on the light blue highlighted words in each paragraph there is more information on a key point about the effects of technology.

For example

Mobile Kids: The Parent, the Child and the Smartphone – Nielsen

www.nielsen.com

Today’s kids aren’t just carrying smartphones—they’re mastering them. In fact, many are just as skilled as their parents—or even more so. So whether they’re texting, playing a game, or engaging in myriad other activities, there’s no doubt that this digital demo is one that marketers...